

Tammy Abbott

Tammy Abbott is from the Western Arrernte and Luritja/Pintipi tribes of Central Australia. She grew up in Alice Springs surrounded by family from remote communities such as Papunya and Ntaria (Hermannsburg). Tammy is a Senior Research Officer with Ninti One and works on projects across remote Australia including local community action planning, wellbeing, income management and rough sleeping. She specialises in community engagement and enjoys working with Aboriginal community researchers as part of her projects. In her experience employing community researchers who have expert knowledge of language, culture and community, helps to ensure the best possible outcomes for communities from research.
