

Sally Butler

Sally Butler works as a radiation nurse at Central West Cancer Service in Orange, NSW. The idea for the project was formed after a number of patients told her they would not have had radiotherapy if the new service at Orange did not exist. Sally is currently completing a Master of Biostatistics and plans to continue her research in rural oncology services.