

Mandy Morcom

Mandy Morcom has lived and worked in her rural and remote community in north-west Victoria for 30 years commencing her nursing career as an Enrolled Nurse in 1982. While being married to a local farmer and raising four children she completed an undergraduate nursing degree in 2004 which opened her mind to emergency, primary and palliative health care. Since then Mandy has obtained a postgraduate diploma in Rural Nursing, is a Rural and Isolated Practice Endorsed Registered Nurse and in 2012 completed a Master of Nursing (Nurse Practitioner) at La Trobe University. For the past eighteen months she has been employed fulltime as a Nurse Practitioner at Rural Northwest Health. In her role as Nurse practitioner Mandy also holds the Urgent Care and Standard 9 portfolios but her passion and drive is about her local and broader community being able to access timely, appropriate health care as close as possible to where they live.
