

Tarun Sen Gupta

Tarun Sen Gupta is Director of Medical Education and Professor of Health Professional Education at the James Cook University College of Medicine and Dentistry in North Queensland. He has worked in undergraduate and postgraduate medical education since 1993, with interests in rural medicine, small group teaching, community-based education and assessment. He is a co-Director of the Queensland Health Rural Generalist Pathway and has previously worked in solo remote practice. He is a director of the Postgraduate Medical Council of Queensland, a member of the Australian Medical Council Board of Examiners and the current President of the Rural Doctors Association of Queensland. He has been involved in the national assessment committees of both the RACGP and ACRRM and currently chairs the ACRRM assessment committee. He is married to Wendy; they enjoy the company of two thriving teenage children, a pair of disobedient golden retrievers and a neglected cat.
