

Anne Vail

Anne Vail moved to Dubbo in 2001 from Western Queensland and has been working in primary health care for over 20 years. Anne has been managing the Rural Outreach Programs for the Western NSW Medicare Local and the Dubbo Plains Division of General Practice prior, for 6 years. Part of this role involves overseeing the clinical governance of the Kelso Indigenous Chronic Disease Clinic. She has a Masters in Nursing from Queensland University of Technology. Anne has had a long attachment to primary care nursing in rural and regional Australia through previous roles in general practice nursing and community nursing.