

Debbie Reid

Debbie Reid is a Grade 5/6 teacher at Bridport Primary School, in the North East of Tasmania. Debbie holds a Bachelor of Education Degree and has a heart for working extensively within her community. Prior to working in education, Debbie worked as an Interior Designer, and gradually made links through her creative skills, and her passion for student learning, by engaging classes in extra-curricular activities in Bridport. Once her degree was in hand, Debbie pursued her passion for student links within the community. With the demands of the Science area of the Australian Curriculum, Debbie found it invaluable for her classes to make links with the local farming area and health and nutrition sectors, seeking applicable opportunities and projects. This has led further to Debbie making a rural health partnership, and engaging students in learning about food supply from the ground up. As well, Debbie has ensured that students become aware of the sustainability of food in their rural area.
