

Virtual Pre-Symposium Session, May 2020

Keynote session: 'How humans and the environment interact'

Professor Anthony Capon, Director, Sustainable Development Institute, Monash University
Planetary health: shaping the future of rural and remote health

View presentation

Professor Pierre Horwitz, Professor of Environmental Sciences, Edith Cowan University
Environmental alliances for regional health (and sustainability)

View presentation

Dr Laura Weyrich, Associate Professor of Anthropology, Penn State Ancient Biomolecules Research Environment, Pennsylvania State University, USA
The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander microbiome reflects long term connection to Country

View presentation

Q&A Session (Link available 25 May) facilitated by Professor John Wakeman, Professor of Remote and Rural Health Services Research

 Menzies School of Health Research

Concurrent presentations – view

Nursing and Allied Health Graduate Outcome Tracking (NAHGOT) study: preliminary findings
Alison Beauchamp

Persistent pain management—turning heartsink into hope
Steve Gilbert

Promoting early literacy: a play-based pre-writing skills program
Ornissa Naidoo

Reaching remote indigenous communities through virtual care: research needed for wider adoption
James Purnell

Indigenous cultural competency: exploring the barriers for health and social care academics
Caroline Robinson

QuoCCA lessons: supporting health professionals through education to deliver paediatric palliative care
Penelope Slater, Leigh Donovan

What supports Indigenous students to graduate in health science? A systematic review
Emma Taylor

Professional supervisor training needs for the rural and remote psychology workforce
Sharon Varela

Flinders University alumni rural outcomes: a data linkage study
Leesa Walker

ruralhealth.org.au/7rrhss

Posters – view

Augmented reality-based telementoring—an innovative approach for scenario-based training: a protocol
Dung Trung Bui

A WHO sponsored checklist: implementing pathways to build rural workforce capacity
Belinda O'Sullivan

Making a difference: a pop-up model for paediatric palliative care
Penelope Slater

Understanding the barriers to treating childhood obesity in Australian general practice
Rory van der Linden

Thank you to our sponsors:

RURAL WORKFORCE AGENCIES

ruralhealth.org.au/7rrhss

